Economy .- We have heard of a man who, when he travelled in his private carriage, carried his own oats with him, to feed his horse at the hotels, and also a hen to eat up the scattering oats, so as to save them, and lay an egg for his dinner; but even he was an incarnation of liberality compared with a miser who died some years ago in the East. From fear of coming to want he hung himself, but was cut down, and on seeing the rope lying on the floor, cut in two, exclaimed: "Why spoil a new rope by cutting it? Could you not until it?" The force of "close shaving" could no further go.

ASSISTANCE FROM PROVIDENCE .- A good old Connecticut deacon was attaching a very poor and feeble pair of oxen to a very large and heavy load of wood. A neighbor asked him how he expected to get so large a load to market with so poor a team. The good deacon replied that he expected to have some assistance from Divine Providence. His neighbor asked him whether it would not be as well to dispense entirely with the oxen,

Time for Transplanting Fruit Trees.

As a general rule, the proper season and kept moist till again set out. Transplanting may be performed in winter, while out of the ground, will perish unless they are buried before thawing.

When it becomes necessary to keep trees through winter without setting, as often occurs where they are brought from a distance, the roots may be placed sloping in a trench on a dry spot of ground, and fine earth thoroughly sprinkled in among them, filling up all interstices; and if they are of tender kinds, one half of the stems may be covered with earth. Trees are often badly kept from neglect to fill up the cavities, which may be prevented by dashing in water, as in transplanting. If received late in autumn.

Air-Tight Stoves.

A recent article in the Farmer remind for the removal of trees is at any period et me of an idea in relation to Air-tight between the cessation of growth in antumn—usually a little later than mid-autumn in the Northarn States—and its recommencement in spring. The earlier in the spring the better; but if deferred till the bads are much swollen, the roots There is no better method yet discovered should be coated immediately with mud, of securing a soft balmy air in a room at a cheap rate than from an air-tight of Manufacturers make small whenever the ground is open, and the air stores to suit customers, but true economy above freezing, but roots which are frozen will lead a man to inquire whether a small stove is not really the more expensive. It requires more labor to prepare the fuel. The air-tight principle is almost entirely lost. The high temperature of the stove speedily burns it out, as well as changes every particle of dust into car-bonic acid, which will soon produce headaches, while it requires almost constant attention.

I have an air-tight made to-order from the best of Russian iron, which has been in constant use for fourteen winters, and it is not worn out yet. LAW AND AGENCY

A FTER the month of June, the undersign A will give his attention to business general-y in the Court of Claims, and in the other Courts held in the District of Columbia-also, to mat ters pending in Congress and in the several De cartments, in which claimants may require counsel. He will not be prepared before the 1st of July to enter into correspondence on such business, as his time will be wholly engrossed until July in closing up his affairs connected with the American Organ.

The undersigned, having obtained, during the twenty odd years which he devoted mainly to Revolutionary Claims, at Washington, a large amount of facts and proofs connected with the services of officers of the Revolution, and having a complete list of all those Continental Officers who were promised half-pay by the several resolves of Congress, and of those also whose widows and children were entitled to "seven years' half pay" under the resolve of 24th Au-npiete lists of the Or in Congress for the last two or three years, and on which, as before stated, favorable action has een had in each House at different sessions of Congress.

Desirous of placing within the reach of all the descendants of Revolutionary Officers the means of ascertaining whether or not the names of their of ascertaining water or ast the names of their ancestors are found upon the authentic rolls of the Army, among those embraced in the bills referred to, the undersigned will furnish for pub-lication, to all publishers of newspapers who will give this advertisement three insertions in their papers respectively (and send a copy thereof to him) full lists of the officers aforesaid for the thir-teen original States. The publication of these lists will effectually remove one main objection to these the proposed bill which has been raised by some members of Congress, to-wit: that these claims were known only to agents, who would charge exorbitant commissions for the presecu-tion and recovery of them, leaving but little to If claimants, with a full knowledge of their rights, think proper to give one-half, or any other portion of their claims to their attorneys, the government has no right to complain. If mem-bers of Congress, instead of fulminating their wrath against spents, would procure the publica-tion of the lists of claims embraced in every law they enact, (so far as the records of the gov ernment furnish the names of parties entitled,) they would render a far more valuable service to their constituents, than by opposing a law to pay just claims on the pretext that agents will eccive large fees for their services.

It is not, however, the purpose of the under igned to interfere, in any manner, with members of Congress, in the discharge of their du-ties, nor with agents in the recovery of their issions, whether high or low. The publica on of the lists in the newspapers, is, in his udgment, a simple act of justice to claimants— and it is but just to himself, and cannot possibly be complained of by others when he states, that for the prosecution and recovery of the claims of Officers of the Continental Army, whose names are on the lists referred to, his commis-pense of correspondence, in time, postages, &c., &c., forbid such examinations, without some comensation therefor.

Persons who may wish to know on what term enerally, the undersigned will investigate and rosecute claims, may learn, by addressing him a letter enclosing a postage stamp and asking for his "Circular to correspondents." VESPASIAN ELLIS, aug. 6, 1857. Washington City, D. C.
